

THE TEN COMMANDMENTS OF GOD

The commandments are the Law of Life. Whoever follows them will live. Whoever disregards them will die. Take this deeply to your heart, because My “Yes” means “Yes”, and My “No” means “No”. Dispensations, exceptions, low harm of actions and other endless justifications move you away from the truth and teach you not to live in discipline. Not allowed means not allowed. And if you want to allow yourself what you must not do, you are knowingly committing a sin.

You must not break My commandments, because they are not a collection of My dreams and advice, but the law. For the breaking of that law you will be thrown into a prison full of fire, and some of you will never come out of it and you will share the fate of the executioners, whose abomination and monstrosity you cannot even imagine.

Excerpt from the message of God the Father

INTRODUCTION

We have before us the “most difficult” messages of God the Father from our Messages for the End Times that have just arrived. They seem to precede some important events, not necessarily joyful, which hang over the modern civilization. Here we learn from them that practically the Ten Commandments of God, which in their essence were intended by God the Creator, do not exist. What the Catholic Church and the world did with them is today the greatest tragedy of God the Creator. His commandments are broken from the first day until the last day of the existence of the world. Thanks to the media, man breaks them all repeatedly during the day. Through the media and the subliminal messages, Satan has achieved a greater level of human sins than people are actually able to achieve. God the Father called the breaking of the Ten Commandments ignorance grown into cruelty.

By coming to the reading of these messages, man already experiences grace, a small “hour W”, in which he discovers his littleness, sinfulness and baseness towards God the Creator. By reading them, he experiences the very painful, naked truth about the state of his soul and the state of his faith.

The teaching of the Church about sin and God’s commandments was withdrawn following the spread of liberalism in the Church. It aims to unify the teaching of all religions, so that a religion can be created with which the whole world will be successfully mastered and controlled. And I said that not one iota in My Law can be changed and removed. I am not like other gods. I am the only One, so never be afraid, for no one more powerful will stand against you. Boldly fulfill My commandments with courage and strength, not allowing yourself to make exceptions and deviations from the Law¹.

Beloved Reader, man of faith, I invite you on the path of truth. I wish you to endure in the reading until the end, and later go to a general holy confession. And so we start our journey with God the Father from the modern Mount Sinai to the new Church and the new Heaven.

The Rev. Piotr Maria Natanek, Ph.D. Hab.

Introduction into the mystery of the ten commandments of God

5.03.2019

God the Father: Listen, man is weak and in addition he has a tendency to believe in his own reflections and feelings more than in God. It is only suffering and disappointments that reveal to man the truth about himself and about the possibilities of his cognition. Love My commandments. Truly they are only love. Suffer with Me due to their rejection and transgression by entire nations. Love them, because they are hated by everyone. Love them, because they are rejected. Worship Me by loving My commandments. Adore Me by valuing them more than human opinions about yourself. Expose yourself to people in order to please God. Love each of My commandments. Do not forsake any. Do not make small concessions. Do not make small compromises. No. They lead you to accept evil. They are slowly opening the door to corruption. Beloved daughter, fight for My commandments. They are hated so much, as if they were evil levied against mankind. As if they were guilty of all evil and all misery. Meanwhile, their rejection brings a curse on souls and nations. The rejection of My commandments brings doom to mankind. The breaking of My Law hurts Me, because My Law does not serve Me. This is the only Law in the world free from the lust for power and not being oriented towards the interests of its creator. This is the only Law of Love. The law given to people for their good and for their interest.

My child, make for yourself a tablet with My Law. You will hang it in your home and you will read it every day to compensate Me for the rejection of My Law by man. Compare your actions, thoughts and words to the words of My Covenant.

Examine your soul every day to see if you also are not joining the company of embezzlers. Let your home be a stronghold of My Law. Let it be safe there and protected day and night. Set up guard on all towers and defend My Law as if it were Me alone. You will make these tablets personally. I want them to hang on your walls and be worshiped. I want them to be at the center of your altars, for I am my Son and I am My Law. By striking My Law, you always strike My Son. Hang these tablets next to the cross to remember that the breaking of My Law is crucifying Jesus and condemning Me to the torment of looking at His Passion in your home and in your soul. Reject evil in every form. Accept Me with My Son and My love in full measure. With all your heart and all your soul. I desire love and gratitude from man for My commandments, with which I protect him from all evil. (...)²

Remember that these tables should be made with great care. Ask My Spirit to show them to you. I would like man to read them again, to learn them by heart and to worship them in such a form, in which they were revealed to him. Tell people that changing My commandments will bring a curse on the world, new diseases and new destruction. Tell the world that it has sinned by changing the content of My commandments.

– What does it mean? Is the Decalogue that I know good?

² The entire dialogue will be available in in volume 31 of the Messages for the End Times that have just arrived.

Yes, daughter. The Decalogue is good, but the teaching is wrong. Each commandment has been changed by wrong teaching, which distorts its meaning. This is a source of damnation for many people: the wrong teaching of the commandments.

– Father, show me these mistakes. Put this evil straight. Tell us Your holy commandments once again. We will write them down again the way you want, with the teaching that you will provide. Help us to discover Your commandments anew and love them anew. I am asking on behalf of the deceived mankind.

Listen. I will come and bring you My Law together with the great love that I have incorporated in it. I will show you what I desired and what man did, adjusting everything to himself and to his own comfort. The alteration of anything in My Law brings a great curse. I promise that I will come. Wait for Me, praying and fasting. Offer me this time of Lent for this intention, that I may purify My Law in the hearts of people from the hypocrisy and falsehood with which Satan has girded them. I bless you in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Blessed, effective instilling of fear

God the Father: You see, formerly the teaching of the commandments was largely done by instilling fear. Even though it is sad, it was effective. Human impertinence and pride were thus inhibited and kept in check. Now came the time of pouring out mercy upon the world. I am showing patience to the world, because I love. I am forgiving, because I desire and I wait. However, the punishments for sins remain the same.

Get to know the Will of God – get to know your good

God the Father: Daughter of My blessing, I come to show you My exposed heart. The world desires more and more and has forgotten about My commandments. My disciples have forgotten My words. And I have pronounced them in order to protect My people from misfortunes and the bonds of the evil spirit. The first parents already transgressed My order, drawing a curse upon themselves. They gave birth to pain for all their children. Their children followed in their footsteps, because every sin is a voluntary transgression of My order. I made a covenant with the wounded mankind under Mount Sinai. I gave mankind My Law, so that man may know My Will, which means: know his good. However, the sons of Adam and Eve did not rise above their parents, nor did they learn from their mistakes and suffering in fulfilling My Will. My commandments were broken and they are still being broken from the first day to the last.

The mystery of evil has hidden itself today in the human mind, which is fed by pride, so that man could establish false commandments, which have ousted My Truth from your hearts. I deplore the fate of mankind because it strayed more than the first time. Today, man plunders with impudence and fondness the tree, from which I forbade him to eat, and he does this in every corner of the Earth. Therefore write My first commandment, so I may speak it again and reveal it to the world.

– You shall not have other gods besides Me.

Good. This is the true sound of the commandment that I gave you. What lies behind it, however, is not known to you, because the first enemy of My commandments is relativism. Making the observance of My commandments and their content conditional upon external and internal circumstances. And I said: “No” and I thought: “No”. My “No” means “No” and My “Yes” means “Yes”. I bless you. Tomorrow, I will dictate to you the content of My first commandment.

COMMANDMENT 1: YOU SHALL NOT HAVE OTHER GODS BESIDES ME

1) The replacement of the holy catholic religion by various forms of paganism

22.04.2019

God the Father: My first commandment is: “You shall not have other gods besides Me.” While in the time of Moses this referred to the acceptance of the cult and the beliefs of neighboring nations, today this applies not only to the beliefs of neighboring nations, but also of distant nations, because thanks to the media man can get to know distant cultures. In essence, this means the replacement of the holy Catholic religion by various forms of paganism, for the religions of the nations neighboring your country are the cult of Satan taking diverse forms and masks. The gods of your countrymen are money, reason, health and nature. You worship godless men as a symbol of happiness. The cult that is born around people who have devoted themselves directly or indirectly to Satan’s service is today the most widespread form of idolatry. Man does not strive to know and to imitate the One God and Creator, but he has accepted the worship of many gods in human form and strives to imitate them, to know them, and he also worships objects that belong to them. I am not only talking about objects actually used by contemporary human gods, but about the cult of brands that produce objects gaining nearly supernatural value in human eyes. After owning these things, man expects to achieve success, gain love and the admiration of the world, and through these things; happiness. Your god is always what you devote your time and your efforts to, and where you direct your heart.

Now I bless you daughter. Tomorrow I will continue My reflection.

2) There is only one God and only He should be called “God”

God the Father: The mystery of the godlessness of today’s world lies in the acceptance of disbelief in the place of faith and the life of godless men as a model. You have come so far in your disbelief that you are able to place images of deities of distant pagan cultures in your homes, not paying attention to the Blood of the Savior, which has washed you in the Sacrament of Baptism. I deplore your mindlessness. You are regressing in development as societies and you do not see your own misery.

The first commandment orders to give due worship to God as a Creator. Your God is One, immortal and uncreated, and all other beings and things belong to the created world. I have shown you the fullness of truth through My Son, who was born in the created world in order to die nailed to the cross and to restore My grace in you. Christ is one. He is the only way to Heaven. This is why Divine worship is due only to God One in the Trinity. All the rest is creation, so all other gods are creatures hidden under many forms pretending to be gods. They are evil spirits or people who have devoted themselves to them.

My first commandment orders you to put Me in the first place in your life. To be the first to whom you open your lips when you wake up. The first one you look at. The morning prayer should be a homage paid to God and a thanksgiving preceding all other activities. If prayer is the fifth thing that you undertake during the day, it means that I am in the fifth place in your life.

Giving Me due glory does not only pertain to prayer, but also to the place where My images and Christian symbols are placed in the home and in the workplace, the observance of My Law as the paramount law, and life in faithfulness with My Will. Religious service is one thing, and testimony is another. If the religious service is true, then a testimony in the form of visible signs of faith and devotion will flow from it. A man’s home, his speech and the actions, to which he devotes himself during the day, say everything about his heart and his passions. What surrounds your bed? What do you keep in the cabinet besides it? Only the most important and the most necessary items.

I want to make you aware that breaking the first commandment is not only about faithlessness and inquiry about the future. It is not only about figurines from the Far East, but about giving the heart and the mind to created things and not to God alone. Only God is worthy of worship, and creatures should be loved for Him and because of Him. What man loves so much, that he is willing to transgress one of God's commandments, becomes a god for him. The human mind should relate everything to God. God should be the measure of a Christian. Man takes his steps towards Him. To Him he measures off his words and intentions. For Him he does everything that he does. The Holy Scripture should be the content that fills the human mind, so that all information is filtered through this holy envelope before it reaches the heart. Meanwhile, it is not the Holy Scripture that is the content of your minds.

Tomorrow more, My child. I bless you in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

3) A way to multiply human sins

God the Father: The mind of man should stand on guard for his heart. Through the mind, you accept information that you consider useful. Thanks to this, you are able to judge what leads to Salvation and what harms your soul. The XIX century is a time of war declared against God by making the human mind dependent on all kinds of media, which slowly but effectively weed out God from the Christian soul. Initially, this action is noticeable to man, but with time he gets used to it and does not notice it anymore.

The paramount goal of the world of the media is to shape man, not only his views and his way of thinking, but also his desires and his will, to act in a specific way and to serve the specific goals of a certain group of people, who shape the external image of the world through the media. A man subjected to this programming begins to slowly withdraw from his inner world, in which he can hear the voice of God and sense his eternal destiny, and step in the outside world and take over from the outside the way of life and thinking. It is a programming of the human mind that it is so effective that anyone who is subjected to it must give in to it after some time. First, by the continuous repetition of false information. Secondly, by the presentation of certain forms of behavior in connection with good and desirable feelings, and thirdly by the subliminal transmission, which acts on the mind of man despite the lack of concentration and awareness of the information received. Thanks to this, My enemy has achieved a greater level of human sin than people are actually able to achieve.

Through the media, man is able to break all My commandments repeatedly in one day. He is already breaking the first commandment by placing a monitor in a central place of his home, through which he will be listening to the voice of My enemy, who insults Me incessantly. The second commandment is broken the most, in every broadcasted program. The third commandment is broken through the very fact of taking away human time from Me on Sunday and on holidays. These days should be dedicated to worshipping Me, and they are entirely handed over to My enemy. The fourth commandment is broken through disobedience and disregard for parents by children. The media replace parents for children. The subsequent commandment is “you shall not kill”. Meanwhile, through the media, one not only observes the process of killing, but also himself kills repeatedly in thoughts or in games. The image emitted by the media strengthens and multiplies ad infinitum the breaking of the sixth commandment. Lies and aspersions are shown as a way of life, and the destruction of people through defamation even as a certain good offered to mankind in the name of truth at all costs. The other commandments are broken by arousing all covetousness in man by the means of his senses, which leads to an uncontrolled desire to possess things, rights and people at all costs. Therefore, participation in this ungodly world must have an ominous influence on the soul and cause in her the loss of innocence and the ability to approach God. I bless you in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

4) By belonging to the world, you are a toy in the hand of Satan

– Father ?

Yes, My child?

– People love television and series.

Yes, I know this. They love them so much that they turn a blind eye to the evil that is seeping from them, and they do not want to notice it. Entertainment has taken such an important place in the life of man, that he is unable to forgo it. It is increasingly engrossing, increasingly cheaper and increasingly pleasant. It takes every free moment of man, so he would not have time for reflection pertaining the purpose of his own existence. God stands in the way of playing and having a good time. He became only compunction of conscience, and yet I Myself am the personification of happiness, happiness without measure and without end. However, the history of Salvation has become too difficult and too exhausting among so many simpler and more pleasant alternatives. And so, My child, I have been pushed out of the center of the life of man and family life, from the center of holidays in My honor. My place was substituted by television and ways of well spending time proposed in it. My voice has become too subtle for the ears of this civilization. I am not there, although I am everything.

Yet, My first commandment given to man still sounds: “You shall not have other gods besides Me, your Only God”. No one will be more important for you than God Himself. You will not worship anyone or anything, but only God Himself. You shall not make images of nature or animals above man, created in My image and likeness. You must not participate in games or entertainment that denigrates Me, where the name of God is called upon without respect. You must not take part in sin, also passively. You must not pay homage to godless people, who spread scandals around them. You must not worship their effigies, listen to their music and imitate their behavior, because they are tools of the evil spirit, who blasphemes Me through their creativity. You must not admire people who serve evil spirits. Turn away from evil, so that you do not turn you into evil. Do not look at evil, lest it will put you to sleep and you will perish like Lot’s wife. Renounce all evil so that sin will not overcome you. Love Me jealously and jealously give Me glory. Do not divide your heart in two, because I will never share it with evil spirits. I am a jealous God. I want to be loved fervently, not half-way. Do not join the crowd that mocks Me and ignores Me. Let your heart burn against My enemies, so you will be able to refuse them out of love for Me. Love Me because I am the only Good. I want to make you happy forever and I have given you proof of this in the passion and the death of My Son. The world is a toy in the hand of Satan. You, by belonging to the world, are a toy in the hand of Satan. My first commandment protects you from becoming his slave. I always give you freedom. I bless you in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

COMMANDMENT 2: YOU SHALL NOT TAKE THE NAME OF THE LORD YOUR GOD IN VAIN

1) Fear before the utterance of the Name of God

27.04.2019

God the Father: My second commandment orders you to respect My Name. This commandment has been completely forgotten. My name is called out by all, believers and non-believers. People who pray, and those who cannot find any mention of God. Unfortunately, both are calling out My Name thoughtlessly and without respect.

My Name is so holy that saying it should awaken in you the fear of the Lord, as it was in the time of Moses, when no one dared to speak My Name for fear of one's own unworthiness and the possibility of offending Me. I Myself spoke to Moses, but he did not dare to say a word in My presence. I told him My Name, so that he could repeat it with trembling to his people. My Name is the highest, because there is no greater name. The Israelites were afraid of mentioning My Name, and you can call Me by My Name. Human lips will never speak a more lofty word than My Name. The Name of the One God is mysterious and powerful.

When I allowed you to feel My power and omni-essence for a moment, you fell silent and you did not even have the idea to open your lips and speak to Me. You were too little to speak to God. You were astounded at the memory that I am speaking to something as small and as insignificant as you. It was only a moment, and yet you remembered it forever. The respect and lowliness you felt at that time filled you with great love. It was a tiny edge, My daughter. Like watching infinity through a keyhole. However, you know that the only worthy attitude towards Me, that you could muster at that time, was silence. Then I told you the words: "I am your God", and you have remained silent.

I want man to fear My Name out of love and honor, of which I am worth. I allow man to come near Me and open his lips to Me, but then I do not become less powerful and holy. I am an infinite and inconceivable omnipresence, which your mind is not able to embrace. I am the Omnipotence living beyond the dimensions and beyond the worlds that you can imagine. I am not limited neither by space, by time, by senses nor by imagination. I Am who I Am since always and forever. It means that I am God. This Name is Mine, because there is no other. I am only Myself in the universe and what I have created.

God – that is My Name. Never call that anyone by adding some nouns. Only I am God. The sound of My Name should bring you to your knees every time you hear it. However, I do not want to be worshiped all by Myself. I want to be worshiped by rational creatures with a free will, who by using their mind, will come to worship Me out of pure love. Bow your head when calling My Name, so you would never say it without thinking. This Name belongs only to Me. You can call false deities with the title of idols, but never give them My Name. I jealously forbid you to call Me with the name of demons. God is holy and almighty. Only I am holy and only I am almighty. Let My Name make you to tremble out of love and reverence, to which disposes you the meditation about My attributes. I bless you in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

2. All believers and nonbelievers call upon the Name of God without restraint

God the Father: Calling My Most Holy Name in vain has become so common among Catholics as if they could not live one moment without saying it. Unfortunately, this happened because of the evil spirit, who placed My Name between filthy words and stuffed with it all the movies that he gave you to watch. Although they are completely devoid of Divine content, My Name is commonly called upon in them, in order to disgrace it. My Name is downtrodden as a dot in a sentence. Every sinner, though he neither wants to know Me nor believes in Me, repeats My Name with stubbornness.

Satan deliberately teaches you how to offend Me and you mindlessly accept these models, learn them by repetition, and bring them into your life and your way of speaking. You do not realize the consequences of these actions. You do not think about them, because you speak unwittingly, like mindless beings. In fact, you were taught to insult Me mechanically and with great ease repeatedly during the day, mocking My Name, calling Me for trifles without the intention to give Me glory and without actually thinking about Me.

When you say, “Oh God,” you call upon the Majesty of the Supreme God, in whose hand is not only your breath, but the breath of all existence. While in heaven an innumerable host of angels and saints utters My Most Holy Name on their knees and with trembling, on Earth it is also called upon equally often and countlessly, but without love, without worship and without trembling. Everyone offends Me, from children to the elderly; everyone who has a tongue desecrates My Name, calling it in vain.

The same applies to the Name of My Son, at the sound of which every knee will bend. His Most Holy Name, His Most Precious Wounds, and His Passion are held in contempt. Satan has attained plenitude here. It is no longer possible to reverse this practice under normal circumstances.

If you worship Me and love Me, in an act of penance for the insult to My Name, try starting from today to at least bow your head every time you hear My Name, the Name of My Son and the Name of the Holy Spirit. I am not asking for genuflection, because this is no longer possible on Earth. Take part in My humiliation, making satisfaction to Me. It will be a consolation for Me and for you an antidote and a chance to free yourself from this sin. You will quickly find out how often I need satisfaction. The respect of My Name and the awareness of one soul, who will give Me glory at the sound of My Name, will bring Me at least a little comfort that there is a place where My Most Holy Name is honored.

I bless you. Give Me this joy and honor My Most Holy Name, and then I will listen to you with such attention, with which you will be saying My Name. Calling My Most Holy Name in vain, however, is not for nothing. It requires penance. I listen to the one who speaks to Me with respect, consciously and with fear.

3. The commandments are not a compilation of the dreams of God, but Law

God the Father: I have introduced the commandments to protect you against temptations, with which a jealous Satan will try to deprive you of the happiness destined for you in Heaven.

My children, I want you in Heaven. I warn you that there are temptations that lead to sins, and these sins deprive you of the heritage due to sons. Listen to My commandments. Contemplate them in your hearts. They are a blessing only, because I have included warnings in them, so badly needed for your Salvation. If you will observe them, we will inevitably live together in eternal joy.

My commandments are not hard, but their teaching has been abandoned, and even if it continues in some form, it is not a form suitable for the times in which Satan has developed many new forms of offending Me and submerging mankind in sin. These are much more cunning and effective forms of spreading evil and deceiving man, but no one warns you against them, which is why evil has spread unpunished in the world as if there were no God and his servants fell into a deep, continuous sleep. My fatherly heart cannot bear the sight of your perdition, which is why I choose a soul living in the world and through her I reveal to you through the sense of My commandments, so you may be able to guard yourselves against the great destruction of souls, which was planned by Satan.

Wake up, My children, and see the world with holy eyes. The world, which I have created to give Me glory, is now an organized form of cursing Me. Its corruption does not reflect My Face, but the face of My enemy and the greatest enemy of mankind, My chosen progeny. My lazy servants do not sound the alarm when your souls are destroyed one by one. Why did you all get separated from Me? You consider My commandments as something that is My advice, and not My Law. The commandments are the Law of Life. Whoever follows them will live. Whoever disregards them will die. Take this deeply to your heart, because My “Yes” means “Yes”, and My “No” means “No”. Dispensations, exceptions, low harm of actions and other endless justifications move you away from the truth and teach you not to live in discipline. “Not allowed” means “not allowed”. And if you want to allow yourself what you must not do, you are knowingly committing a sin.

You must not break My commandments, because they are not a collection of My dreams and advice, but the law. For the breaking of that law, you will be thrown into a prison full of fire, and some of you will never come out of it and you will share the fate of the executioners, whose abomination and monstrosity you cannot even imagine. You are terrified by the mockery resulting from fulfilling My Will. You are terrified by the death, which suffered the martyrs. However, their torments lasted a couple of hours or days, and you strive toward a place, in which torments and tortures last not a few hours, but days, weeks, months, years, centuries, and centuries, and centuries, and never ever end or stop. Doesn't this intimidate you? Should you not be afraid above all of breaking My commandments?

My mercy does not exceed My justice. Sins must always be counterbalanced by penance. You do not want to repent, and you have learned to sin so habitually that the amount of your sins does not find satisfaction in your loose change, which you drop for Me as penance. Sin has overcome you so much that you no longer see its abomination; it neither surprises you nor offends you. This is precisely the result of the action of the media, which slowly and effectively accustomed you to sin, so that you have already gone so far as to recognize it as innate and natural, not contradictory to human nature, and downright serving it. It is already claimed that this abstinence from sin and penance destroys man and causes disturbances in him.

My creatures, as your Creator, I assure you that you have been created for a life without sin, and your nature is created after My Divine nature. Sin is the nature of Satan, a beast that bears no resemblance to man in anything. By succumbing to him, man sinned in Paradise and became weak and susceptible to temptation from then on. But he received Baptism, and in it the merits of the Passion and the death of My Son, so he could lead again the life of a child of God and see My nature in himself. The sacraments heal the condition left to you after the wounding of the human nature in Paradise. The Gates of Heaven are wide open to you by the Blood of My Son. Deign to step across them, by living as I command you. I bless you in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

4. The language of Satan and the souls of the damned

God the Father: Curses are the language of Satan. Whoever utters them is in his power. This is the language that betrays his followers, or rather slaves. They open their mouths, and My enemy's venom spills out of them. The human tongue, which has to glorify God, so rarely serves its purpose. The Earth curses from morning to night, and this shows you how many souls no longer belong to Me. Your language and expressions are more and more brutal because the speech of society changes together with its progressing corruption. If you have God in your heart, curses must estrange you, because as I mentioned, they are the language of Satan.

Another form of cursing is malediction. He who vituperates also utters words coming straight from the evil spirit. Every curse is a spoiled fruit given to you by Satan. If you utter them, you eat this rot; so that poisoned with his venom, you may speak with the language of the damned already on Earth. By wishing evil to anyone, you call upon the power of evil to help you in doing evil. All the misfortunes that will fall on the head of the victim will be counted to you as a fault. Be afraid of evil. Distance evil thoughts away from you, because the devil wants to damn you through his own anger. You, on Earth, have no reason to despair because I am everlasting hope. Despair and malediction are the world of the damned. Do not enter it in your lifetime, because you will inevitably find your way there after death. Shut your ears to this evil. Avoid listening to curses by renouncing movies in which they are popularized.

Evil spirits are hurling curses because they are already damned. This is the language of Hell. All the damned curse. So let this be a warning to you, that when you curse, Satan himself uses your lips to revile Me in the human heart. Curses indicate that the one who utters them is in the power of the demon or the demon is gaining power over him through anger or despair. At times of such great temptation, you must ask for help from the loved ones who can pray for you, the saints and the angels. Every act of humility distances the evil spirit. You fight against evil spirits because submission to them manifests itself in the curse, which, allowed into the human heart and not fought with the whole strength, will remain on the lips of man until the moment of his death. Amen.

5. The art of curses and vituperations

God the Father: I want to speak to the world, which does not know its God. I want to explain to you Myself what My commandments are, because My servants have stopped teaching you this, and this is a teaching that needs to be repeated and related to current circumstances. The correct understanding of the commandments of God is the basis for fulfilling them. Giving the commandments along with their outdated interpretation will not protect people from sin. Sin has undergone further degeneration and is no longer recognizable as a sin. It has been dressed in new clothes and is deceiving you.

The reason for breaking the second commandment is a complete lack of discipline in the use of speech. Everyone speaks indiscriminately, not paying heed to the consequences of their statements. Especially in anger and impatience, man is inclined to repeat after the evil spirits curses and vituperations, of which real action he is not aware. After a few days, the anger passes, but evil spirits are already invited into the life of man and the matters, which he handed over to demons. There are many expressions that directly or indirectly are offering something or someone to evil spirits. As a being with a free will, man can offer something to God, but he can also immolate it to Satan. And so, there are many expressions that have jocose forms, but are formulas of offering something to Satan. So pay attention to your words and thoughts, and in impatience be silent, because it is a moment when one often falls into traps. Evil spirits accept all invitations. Unfortunately, later it is not enough to change your mind to get rid of them.

The curse comes into effect at the request of man and entails evil with it. Be pure in your hearts, not wishing evil upon anyone. Never make sacrifices to Satan through any curse. Be careful of what you say, so that you do not provoke Me to anger. There are also utterances that are not curses, but a kind of adjuration. It is a bridge to a curse. Do not say expressions unknowingly, because you do not know the origin of these words, and you often repeat expressions, which are like curses for children. Let your speech be clear and conscious. Always have Jesus Christ and His life as a model; His way of expressing Himself – precise and thoughtful. Man lives only once. Do not use words that My Son would not use. He is your role model. You are the children of God. Express yourselves with dignity and wisely, because foolish speech is not fitting for the children of Heaven.

Enough for today. I bless you, daughter. In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

COMMANDMENT 3: REMEMBER TO KEEP HOLY THE LORD'S DAY

1) The Day of the Lord and not a day of rest

God the Father: My first commandment orders you to obey all other commandments. My second commandment orders you to use your lips only for the glory of God. The third commandment orders you to devote one day a week to the glory of God. Write so.

Sunday is the first day of all days because it belongs to God and is a day offered to God by Himself. The earthly time is divided into weeks, in which man should devote every seventh part to God, to give Him glory and thanks for the given graces. It is a day of propitiation for committed sins and obtaining graces for the following days. On this day, man should stop all earthly work and turn his eyes, thoughts, and heart to God. This is not a day of rest, but a day of the Lord, which means that the teaching of the third commandment is wrong, because it emphasizes rest and not the glory of God. It sounds precisely like this: "Remember to keep holy the Lord's Day." I Myself sanctified this day, refraining from all creative works, but I looked at the work that I have accomplished. This way, I gave an example to man that no matter how important the work he performs, the seventh day is a day of thanksgiving for the work of creation and the blessing of God. Thus, I interrupted My work, but not because it was tiring Me, nor because I made any profit from it. I interrupted it to see how everything that I have created gives Me glory.

The seventh day is not a day of rest, as you are wrongly taught. Sunday is not a day of relaxation, sport, social or cultural meetings. Sunday is the day of the Lord established by God; that is, the day of God. This means that this day should be entirely dedicated to God for glory. Man gives glory to God above all through prayer. Man gives Me the greatest glory by participating in the sacrifice of the Passion and of the death of My Son, and thus the prayer of God Himself offering a sacrifice for mankind. How can you not be there? Isn't this the greatest disregard for God that man is capable of? I gave you six days to take care of earthly affairs, but I took one day for Myself, so that all creation would glorify God for the work of creation and Redemption. The sacrifice of the Holy Mass is the basic, first and unique in its kind form of praising Me, because in it God-Man praises Me in a perfect way. And thus, this Sacrifice is perfect, agreeable and pleasing to God, while all other human sacrifices are imperfect because they are offered by imperfect beings inherently wounded by sin.

This is the Supreme Sacrifice and it is not offered for every human being by man, speaking words, but God, shedding His own Blood in agony. This sacrifice is bloodless, but real; invisible in its infinite power and majesty, but real and visible enough in the earthly conditions so that everyone could participate in it and give glory to God.

When God-Man apologizes with his own Blood for the sins of man, this man should at least show up next to the cross to be sure that this Sacrifice is also offered for his sins and his fault will be propitiated before God the Creator. A sinful man should unite himself with the cross of Christ and call to God: "It is for me, it is for my sins that Your Son is dying so! So accept His Sacrifice for me and forgive me!" A sinful man should accept the grace that the Son of God obtains for him on the cross. He should receive it in the form of the Holy Spirit entering into the human heart with the sanctifying grace through the holy sacraments of the Church.

At least that much is owed to God for the work of creation and Redemption of man, and all this is done through dignified and full participation in the Holy Mass in the day dedicated to God for His exclusive glory. Tell Me now, how many inhabitants of Earth are observing the third commandment?

– A handful. Few.

This is My greatest tragedy as a Creator. I redeemed the erring mankind by sending My Son on the cross, and it does not want to receive Redemption. Such a great Sacrifice, infinite in its power and pain, passes unnoticed by mankind, which enjoys itself so well and rests so zealously that it is unable to lift its eyes up to God dying for it on the cross. This is the breaking of the third commandment. Ignorance grown into cruelty.

Ignorance developed in human hearts to the level of cruelty towards God. Nourished by laziness, feeding of the senses and passions, self-love and idolization of man. I bless you, daughter.

2) Time for reflection and meeting with God in silence

God the Father: The holy day should be entirely dedicated to My glory: beginning with prayer, participation in the Sacraments and services of the Church, and also by the exploration of My Will and mysteries by reflecting upon the Holy Scriptures, reading pious books and contemplating My Word. There must be a time in the life of a man in which he dwells in thought beside God and realizes in this way who he is and what he is seeking. Do the deeds he performs during the week bring glory to God? Does he use the time he received from God in a wise way? Isn't he wasting it on foolish and superfluous matters? If on Sunday he does not find time for reflection, his life will pass quickly and he will not even have time to think about it, let alone prepare for death.

I want this day to be different from all others. I want to be first especially on this day. I want to receive thanks for all the graces you have received from Me in previous days. Will they be noticed at all? The world made Sunday into a feast of meetings and common entertainment, and I would like to meet with the human soul on this day one on one. Only silence will make it possible for man to hear Me. During the week, the amount of duties and matters of the modern man does not give him the opportunity to commune with Me in silence. My voice is therefore drowned out by inventions that are supposed to make man's life easier and expedite all activities. However, while doing so, they engage the mind of man so far that he is no longer able to pray at work.

So leave Me one day. Let it be a day for Me. For My glory and for My joy. You did not respect My holiday, so now you are forced to work without interruption. It is your fault because you did not respect My Will. Schools, parks, entertainments, cinemas and other places devoted to man take away from Me your time and your attention on this day, and television takes away receives the rest that remains. So when should I speak to you and when will you give Me glory?

You have become slaves through your own sins. You do not have holidays anymore, because you have made comfort and entertainment your god. When you worked less, you were faring better. Now you have everything, but you are poor because you do not have what is most important. You sold your faith, your families, martial love, loyalty, peace, freedom and precious time for full shelves, refrigerators and garages.

You have erred, My children, and you have been deceived, taking and taking without restraint, when everything that was the most precious to you was carried out behind your backs. Now you lack My blessing because all household members are breaking My Law. You entered yourselves into captivity, in which holidays and joyful respites were taken away from you, and now you call to Me: what should we do to teach our children and not lose our jobs? I will answer you: Return to Me with all your heart. Remember the Law you have pledged to obey, and do not irritate Me with your complaining, because you have rejected My days off, fearing people more than God. You despise My Law, and later you complain about oppressors. If you value people more than God, what reward do you expect? You go under the rule of people since you have despised God. I bless you, daughter, in the name of Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

3) Work in the Day of the Lord

God the Father: I want man to live his life consciously. My enemy seeks to make man instinctual and thoughtless. So he would act solely for his own benefit and glory, live for his own convenience, and only care for his own worldly happiness. He succeeded in this to a large extent. The dizzying rush of the world towards damnation is only interrupted by Sundays with their ringing bells, people dressed in their Sunday best on the way to the Church, and processions, which are very few. The view of a Catholic priest disturbs the joyful jumping into the abyss. These are real obstacles to spending time thoughtlessly. Time, which flows inexorably fast. From amusement to amusement. From vacation to vacation. Think, My child, if there is less and less of these signs of God's presence, and Sunday ceases to be Sunday, the last obstacles on mankind's wide path to Hell disappear from the world.

That is why it is so important to observe Sunday as a holy day entirely dedicated to God. Since signs are ceasing to call out to mankind, My children should be sings in the world by refusing public entertainment on the holy day, which is organized in honor of other deities on that day, to take away from Me the exclusivity of glory received on that day. By entering a store on Sunday, you support the sin of those who sacrificed this day for money. Thereby, you say: "I am not a Catholic." Who is a Catholic today? What values does he profess? What are his commandments? Catholicism has become such a relative religion, as if God, who revealed it, did not really know what He truly wants. I have never been vague, and My words have always been simple.

So what if you do not work for a profit on Sunday, if you force others to work and you wish to satisfy all your desires at My expense? Only work for My glory is possible and allowed, work that brings spiritual good to people and glory to Me through the fruits of this work. This cannot be said for any form of work, which has the form of a hobby and brings joy to the one doing it. So what? I should be pleased on this day. So regardless of whether this work is a joy or a burden for man, if it does not bring Me glory on this day and I am not its direct reason, it is work that should be done on any other day, so as not to take away from Me the thoughts and the heart of man on the day of My feast.

If you are unable to judge these things, look at the fruits. You will always recognize the truth by the fruits, whether the fruits of the efforts made on Sunday are dedicated to Me and whether they taste good to Me. This will give you clarity in these times of darkness. So if the priests work the most on Sundays, they do it for My glory and their work is blessed because its fruits are intended for Me and they bring Me glory. But cinemas, ice cream parlors, shops, bazaars, and other places are not directed to My benefit and even if a walk in the bazaar did not seem a sin to you because you are not buying, it is a sin because the foot of a Catholic should not step on it on My holy day. Remember this well, weigh your deeds according to what I told you. Do not be guided by human considerations, but My glory. Give Me an example of your loyalty. I bless you in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

4) A day of respite for the soul and the body

God the Father: I want Sunday to be a longed-for day of respite for you, when not only your bodies are resting to free your souls from the concerns of everyday life, but also your minds are resting free from worries. Sunday is a day of joy. On that day, the thoughts of man should move away from the matters of this world, and move towards heavenly, eternal and joyful matters. Hence, I encourage you on that day to read pious books, to contemplate My Word. I am looking for the soul in the silence of her reflections. The human soul rests best in God. Let your family circle be a joy for you, but leave yourselves time on that day for blissful silence with Me.

I am not the enemy of rest. I want you to rest, but not as the world proposes to you. Man rests best in loneliness and silence. He truly rests when he is left alone. Every man knows how he regenerates best and fastest. Everyday worries, buzz, constant struggle, and haste, as well as all kinds of hardships, leave man sad, irritable and often so tense that a small matter is enough to get him out of balance. Rest in silence is a necessity to move away all these worries and distance oneself from them. Already after a few hours of silence, man becomes stronger, calmer and joy returns to his heart. It is I who pour new strength and hope into him, spending time with him one-to-one.

The soul must drink from God. Constant activity leads man to great nervousness because he cannot draw solace from communing with Me. Give Me your Sundays, and I will fill you with My peace. The world commands you to enjoy your free time and do a lot of superfluous things, which you do not feel like doing at all. You do not realize that you are living, as it were, contrary to yourselves, performing things that you have been commanded as those, which will make you happy and will make in sort that your free time will be well spent. Hence, you are forced to do sports, visit interesting places, meet interesting people, concerts, exhibitions, adventures and entertainment, while the human soul above all desires peace and love. You come back to your homes and you are empty and frustrated more than before leaving them, because the world does not satisfy the soul of man. It only reaches his ambitions, senses, and lusts. It leaves the soul hungry and thirsty.

I am asking you to take My words to your heart. Whoever does not respect the third commandment does not respect God. It is never worth it to break this commandment for any gain. Avoid people who want to break it on this day, so as not to be yield to their prompting. Be faithful in your conscience by refusing the devil to do business on this day. Remember that Satan always tempts you to sin, pushing the boundaries of sin in your minds further and further through justifications, exceptional circumstances and false love of your neighbor. If it is not allowed, it is not allowed. Do not bend My Will to your whims, because this justifies you only before yourselves, but not before Me. Do not deceive yourselves by sinning. A sin is a sin, and only I can assess its severity. Be as faithful towards Me as you would like Me to be faithful towards you. Avoid opportunities for sin, steer clear from afar of shops and cafes, as well as those shops where you buy without leaving your home, and you will remain loyal to Me and happy at the hour of your death. Amen.

COMMANDMENT 4: HONOR YOUR FATHER AND YOUR MOTHER

1) The upbringing of man for Heaven

18.05.2019

God the Father: My fourth commandment establishes parental authority over children. It is an authority based on love. Children are obliged to listen to their parents, respect them and love them, and the parents are obliged to bring them up in love and the fear of God, so that they seek Salvation throughout their entire later lives. By entrusting parents with the upbringing of a new man, I desire that they raise him for Heaven, not for Hell. Participation in My creative act has as a goal to bind the hearts of children to parents, and the hearts of parents to children. Thanks to this, the ones should be intent on the salvation of the others. When creating a family, I give over part of My own responsibility to parents. They will be accountable to Me for their children, for their life and choices. My responsibility for creation led My Son to the cross. I offered Him as a sacrifice for all My offspring, so it could be saved and happy forever. In this great Sacrifice, I have shown to the world that there is nothing greater in this world than Salvation. Salvation requires the greatest sacrifice and I call parents to this sacrifice, to be ready for any commitment for the salvation of their children.

A new human being cannot be treated as a complement to the whims of the modern family. By accepting the gift of parenthood, some people accept the responsibility for the souls of other people. For this effort, I give them a share in My work of creation and I create some humans similar to others. However, the purpose of parenthood is to educate people for Heaven. I want parents to teach their offspring to worship God and to distinguish good from evil so that in later life, filled with good example, children will make good choices. This sacrifice of dedicating one's life for the life and the education of others demands respect and love. Thus, children should love and respect their parents, because through them they receive the gift of life, so that they could get to know and love God.

2) Parents deserve honor because they act on behalf of God

God the Father: The love of parents should teach children to love. This is the most important skill needed in life. Because they act on behalf of God, they are worthy of all love and honor from their children. The gift of life outweighs other gifts. This is a Divine gift. The highest. This gift cannot be given to you by anyone else but your parents. For this reason, parents should be nurtured by their children until their last breath, and in this way, children can, as it were, repay them for the gift of life. The respect of parents, however, results not only from this Divine gift but from the mission to which they were called by God. Bearing in mind the love and the desire to ensure a safe and dignified life for their children, parents try to shape them as best as possible and in every respect. Parents' orders are therefore God's orders because they are guided by love. I bless you, child.

3) Responsibilities of children towards parents

God the Father: The Mother and the Father are not only worthy of obedience, but also of honor from their children. Children, whenever they are able to, should help them in their duties and work. The parent's faith should be the faith of their children and children have the obligation to imitate and continue the parents' faith. I direct My Messages to Catholics, and I only think about them, defining My Law. The whole world must become Catholic to hear My voice. Parents do not enslave children by mandating their faith and raising them with discipline and love. Any abuse of parents toward children will be considered as a sin. Abuses are deeds and actions directed at children, and not aimed at their upbringing, resulting from bad tendencies or sinful entanglements of the parents. These acts have the nature of mistreatment or exploitation.

So I require obedience from children towards parents and a full submission to their will, as if they were submitting to My Will. Parents have the right to protect their children from any bad influence, because they are fully responsible for the formation of their children. That is why parents receive the right to decide about everything in regard to their children; from education, nourishment, and treatment to all the ways they spend their free time.

It is the duty of children to pray for parents. Only God stands above parents, so in the case of difficulties in the family, one should only turn to Him for help. The introduction of people and ungodly institutions into family matters will always result in an augmentation of the problem and greater injuries. The church should deal with all problems related to family relations because these are such intimate and delicate spheres, that only God can enter them due to the holiness of the family.

Therefore, the sin of children is not only disobedience to parents, but also all bad words addressed to parents, as well as against them in slander. Slandering parents is a serious offense, and going against them in the court is the most serious one. A quarrel with a parent is a serious offense, and hitting one of the parents is the most serious one. Regardless of the circumstances, children should always defend their parents, unless they oppose the holy Catholic faith in their behavior, and then the child may refuse to obey. Parents should be treated by children as faithful messengers of God, as angels themselves, because they took upon themselves the duty of begetting and raising man for God.

In their proceedings towards parents, children can only seek advice from a confessor in the confessional. If they turn directly or indirectly to their peers or non-family members in the matter of their parents, taking advice from third parties, either directly or through the media, they introduce the action of the evil spirit into their families. They open the door for him and give him a voice, which is why all psychological reports pertaining to the family will not bring you benefit and peace. On the contrary, they will bring anxiety to your families and an egoistic attitude. You will start looking at each other as objects making up an ensemble of positive or negative behaviors, and from here it is easy to move to judgment and resentment, which turns into wounds begetting subsequent wounds. Only love brings peace, and only love is able to transform and heal the family.

God is always on the side of the father and on the side of the mother. I bless the children who love and honor their parents. Love is shown to parents through obedience to their will, help in their work and needs, as well as prayer in their intention. In later years, this honor and love are shown to parents by listening carefully to their advice and warnings, caring for their life and health, and offering, aside from prayer and help, care for their existence and dignified living conditions. The love of the child experiences a real trial during the parents' old age or frailty. It is a time in which a child can repay his parents for nurturing his frailty in the first period of his life, for the sleepless nights of his parents and all financial means incurred in raising him. He can also offer this time for any errors and neglect of his own parents in parental responsibilities.

The time of parent's old age should be treated as a time of pregnancy, that is, the time preceding the birth of parents for Heaven. Pregnancy is a time when a conscious mother or father does everything to bring a healthy and a strong as possible child into the world. The same goes for the birth for Heaven. The time preceding the death and the departure of parents, and thereby their birth in the future world, should be devoted to make sure that they will be born into eternity as healthy and as strong as possible, which means being as clean as possible, aware, and having atoned for their sins, to enter Heaven or be forced to spend the shortest possible time span in Purgatory. If the soul of the parent is sick, every possible effort should be made to ensure that she would not die after birth, and thus that she would not be damned. Thus, the preparation of parents not only should encompass the care for their dignified existence and external cleanliness, but also for the cleanliness of their souls, the holy sacraments, prayer and the awareness of the necessity to forgive absolutely to all trespassers. And so, aside from providing parents with necessary things from the physiological side, children are also responsible to give them appropriate education for the hour of death, provide them with good readings, or read pious and inspiring contemplations. Stories of saints, which add valor and incite reflection on one's own life, are also of great help.

After the parent's death, it is a duty on the part of the children to give them a dignified funeral and take care of their souls; it means the obligation to pray and order Holy Masses for the souls of the parents. This obligation lies upon the children until their own death, because until their own death they are the children of their parents. In the same way, the parental responsibility for children applies until the deaths of parents, because parents remain parents until the end of their lives, even if their children are already adults. The admonitions of parents are the admonitions of God, and the one who does not listen to them will experience a lot of pain and suffering, learn from his own mistakes and acting against the will of parents. These angelic beings, for they are beings receiving their mission from God Himself, receive the love to raise their children, thanks to which they know what is good for them and what will bring them pain, suffering, and death. So whoever wants to live a good and happy life, let him ask his parents for advice, let him always ask them for their blessing, and God will give Himself to him through his parents and bless him through their blessing. I bless you, daughter, in the name of your Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

4) Respect due to teachers, educators, and employers

God the Father: You know, the fourth commandment is not only the honor, which is due to parents. It is also the Will of God expressed through teachers, educators, employers, and authorities. One should recognize not only the rightful parental authority, but also the authority derived from the social system in which one lives: respect for the rights of other people who have received authority from God in the education and formation of young people, respect for the rights of employers towards employees, and authority over society, and this applies to both secular and spiritual authority. Authority comes from God, and if only it is not contrary to the Law of God, a Christian should comply with it. Above all, however, he is bound by the Law of God, and only later by human law.

It is a sin to oppose teachers and educators, to hinder and inconvenience their work that is compatible with their calling, if only it has as a goal the good of the student. The student should only oppose this authority for a valid reason, that is, for moral or spiritual motives, if the tasks and requirements of the teachers exceed what God demands in His commandments. It is a sin to persecute teachers for no reason, to slander them, and act to their detriment. It is a sin to weaken their health by showing them hostility and disobedience, ignoring their requests and recommendations.

Also, all action to the disadvantage of the employer is a sin. The hiring of an employee is always good, and if only it does not have an exploitative character and it is not a job that in itself opposes the Law of God, it is good and for that good, the employer is due gratitude and respect. Slandering an employer, disregarding his requirements, sluggishness at work and robbing him of property or a good name is a sin. It is also a sin to reveal the secrets of the employer for no important reason, which may lead to his fall not only in the financial sphere but also in the spiritual one. Respect for the employer and his property is the duty of the employee. An employee, who not only performs his duties badly but also murmurs against his employer, will never have God's blessing at work. It is important to notice the good qualities of the employer and give thanks for the goodness shown to us. The ingratitude and the dishonesty of employees is the main reason for the collapse of many companies, for which the employees bear the blame and answer for this before God.

Every man should perform the work, for which he receives remuneration, to the best of his ability. The employee's honesty and loyalty are many times more valuable than his abilities. The abilities can always be increased with the right preparation and experience. Loyalty is an extremely valuable trait and cannot be increased with compensation and promotions. There are loyal people and those who murmur permanently. These should be avoided. An employer, however, can win over good employees by appreciating and respecting their work, or even lose the favor of the good ones through bad treatment. Both owe respect and honesty to each other, and both answer for this to God. Tomorrow, My child, I will tell you about authority. I bless you in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

5) The teaching of the commandments and love for the Law of God

God the Father: Listen, now I will speak and you only write. If I do not ask, do not interrupt Me. We write. I want societies to profess this faith that was instilled in them before World War II. This war introduced chaos in teaching. Now the truth is no longer being taught about the commandments, and hence mankind, and especially Catholics, do not obey the Law of God. I told you, “especially Catholics,” because precisely this group of people is the subject of the furious attack of Satan. It is precisely Catholics who are surrounded by a cloud of evil spirits that obscures the light of God to them and leaves them walking in the dark. By destroying priests, they destroy souls who senselessly worship god, whom I am not. It is easy to wound the One, whose Heart one does not know. It is easy to deceive people who are stupid, uneducated and devoid of God’s grace. That’s what the world is striving for, so that Catholics would become the spittle of Satan thrown on My Face.

Child, the teaching of the Church about sin and God’s commandments was withdrawn following the spread of liberalism in the Church. It aims to standardize the teaching of all religions so that a religion can arise, with which it will be possible to master and control the whole world. And I said that no iota in My Law can be changed and removed. I am not like other gods. I am the only One, so never be afraid because no one more powerful will stand against you. Boldly fulfill My commandments with courage and strength, not allowing yourself to exceptions or deviations from the Law. Please Me by treating all My recommendations seriously. I want your good. Trust only Me.

The renewed teaching of the commandments should begin by learning the Decalogue by heart and including it in the daily morning and evening prayers. This is My Law, whose observance I have demanded from you and whose observance guarantees your obtainment of Salvation. A proper understanding of the commandments should be the main preaching lesson for the dumbed-down society of the 21st century. There is nothing more important, because a man who does not know the law cannot follow it, and failure to follow My Law is the simplest way to Hell.

So write down now. The second degree of love for My Law, after repeating its commandments every day and getting to know their proper understanding, is its observation and love. Its exaltation in your homes and hearts as the most holy item. To this end, I want to give you tablets with My Law, so you may put them in your homes and commit with entire families to observe them. This Law is the basis for Salvation, but Catholics have received even more. They also received the law of the Church, which complements the law of the Ten Commandments. However, I will talk about that later.

Beloved child, tell the world about My desires. I want to start teaching you from the basics, so that you would know what is white and what is black. God is not rainbow-colored, My child. There are good and bad things. To talk about colors, one must get to know black and white. You have mush in your head and you do not understand more, that evil is and remains evil, and pity can also lead to evil if it is caused by feelings and weakness, and not reason and will. Now, I bless you in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

6) Secular and spiritual authority

God the Father: I bless you. I bless the nations that abide in faith. Think about it, daughter, how many of these nations are there? What percentage of society must believe so I might call the nation a believer? Or is it a matter of authority? Yes. It is a matter of authority. Secular and ecclesiastical authority. I want it to be clear that the direction of development or regression of a nation is directed by authority. Authority is always a vocation to service and is bound by great responsibility, about which those who lust for it do not know. Those who do not lust for it manage with it much better, and I want to talk about them today.

Authority as an election comes from God, who entrusts the development of mankind in the hands of individuals. Authority is a necessity and is good as long as it comes from God and is directed towards the common good of mankind. There is also an authority that does not come from God, but can only be called an allowance of God. It is the one that is attained by deceit, iniquity, and violence, and it is driven by greed. I am not calling anyone to kill and to gain authority through murder, which is its abuse already from the very beginning.

Authority in the concept of God is called to govern entire nations, so that they would serve God in the best way and fulfill their national vocations. When authority tries to do this in accordance with the inspiration of God, it has My blessing. If it misappropriates this grace, it loses My blessing.

In the first case, the nation should show full obedience and love to the rulers, striving zealously to fulfill the law of the state and to support the authorities with their prayer and other means, because those who rule with God's blessing are supported by God Himself. He also guides their actions and is the author of their inspirations. Criticizing the legally ruling authority, which honestly tries to fulfill its obligations to God and to mankind, is a sin weakening its strength, and by the same token weakening the entire nation. Incitement to rebellion through open criticism is an attack on God Himself, who, through His blessing, wants to fulfill His plan for a given nation.

In the case of bad authority, which leads mankind to destruction and the nation to extinction, the national law should be the Law of God, and it should be used in making all decisions. If the national law exceeds God's commandments or encourages their violation, not only man should not follow it, but he should decisively oppose it in order to save his soul. The salvation of the human soul is always a paramount goal. In this case, acting in accordance with national law is not an excuse for sin, and cannot be a criterion for mitigating or changing the Law of God. One should also pray for this authority, because only in this way can it be transformed or changed. God is the only source of grace and salvation for a nation that suffers due to bad authority. Then, a great and major responsibility lies with ecclesiastical authority, because a nation not guided by any authority cannot go in the right direction. I bless you, daughter. Amen.

COMMANDMENT 5: YOU SHALL NOT KILL

1) The holiness of human life and exclusivity of God for the creation of man

God the Father: I formed you in your mother's womb and called you into existence. Your life is precious in My eyes, because without you the world will not receive My smile. Now write down that all human beings were called to life for a specific purpose. Every man has been given a task to accomplish on this Earth. He was planned and created by God in His image and likeness, as a child. On that account, his life is holy because it comes directly and completely from God. God, as the Creator, equipped the human soul with grace, so she would be able to achieve Salvation and unite with Him in eternity.

In the fifth commandment, I forbade you to kill human beings, so that it would be clear that human life is the most holy matter and it cannot be taken from man against My Will. The loss of human life is an irrecoverable loss, a loss for which man cannot make satisfaction, because as a creature he will never be a creator to give Me back the body or the soul of a killed man. Only I alone am the owner of human life, and only I, as the Creator, have the right to determine the hour of life and death of man, and I always do it with the greatest love. The attempt of an experimental creation of man using genetic material is a manipulation in an area encompassed by a holy prohibition and a crime on mankind. For a man consists of a body and a soul. Even if man creates a human body, he is not able to create a human soul. The production of people as beings deprived of souls is raising the hand on God as a Creator.

Human action reached the peak of pride, interfering with My creative plan through assassinations, suicides, murders, and genocide. Add to that the experiments on human genetic material, which far exceed what is referred to as medicine. For they do not serve for healing but for producing, and they exclude the Holy Spirit, creating ungodly things on the basis of God's power that are crying for vengeance to Heaven.

Listen to Me. The commandment: "You shall not kill" refers to every man as a human being created by God. Man's interference in the creation process inflicts violence upon Him and destroys the sanctity of the human being and the mysterious Will of God towards him. To destroy man is not enough. To destroy humanity in the real and moral dimension: this is the supreme goal of the most inhuman and cruel being in its nature degenerated from hatred – Satan. I bless you, child.

2) Physical and psychic killing

God the Father: Sin is a deliberate offense of man against God's commandment. The fifth commandment orders the protection of human life and health from conception until natural death. Therefore, it prohibits all human interference in the process of the life of man. Both harming a conceived child in order to deprive him of life, as well as deliberately not treating the elderly to speed up their death, is a grave sin that fully deserves to be called a murder. He who possesses knowledge is obliged to protect life and health. If he were to act against his calling, he would be better to never acquire this knowledge, because his punishment as a murderer of innocents will be terrifying.

Doctors together with science assume a great responsibility, because just like priests are responsible for the lives of human souls and this is a calling given by God Himself, so doctors possess the ability to save and protect the lives of human bodies, which are intended as God's temples of the Holy Spirit. So let them do their work diligently, aware of their responsibility weighing upon them. Pharmaceutical products intended to save lives and improve the condition of health should be prescribed carefully, based on their knowledge and experience, so that recklessness would not lead to a deterioration of the condition of man. The human organism is a whole. If by treating one organ you destroy another, you are not a doctor, but a mechanic in the field of the particular organ. Your repairs are more dangerous to life than many years of illness.

The absolute prohibition on killing man also applies to his psyche, which is why not only the act of murder is a sin, but also anger, jealousy, instigation, injustice, swearing, and abuse by making another's life miserable. Such a sin is committed by all who, through their passions, alcohol, drugs, betrayals, quarrels, wastefulness and violence, are tormenting their families and are the source of their constant suffering. This applies to spouses who inflict suffering on themselves, parents who scandalize their children, as well as children who gravely sadden their parents, falling into bad company, deceiving their parents and not listening to their advice. Harassing, saddening and angering others shortens their lives and takes away their health, and it also has very broad spiritual effects, about which I will talk later.

Mutual love is the basis of healthy child development and health in general. In his care for health, man should consciously avoid things he knows to be harmful, and preserve moderation in eating. However, healthy nutrition should not be put above prayer, and cleanliness of the environment above faith. These are always secondary matters. For that reason, I have given you a prayer before eating, so that by consciously choosing what is good for you, you would also have My blessing and protection against evil that is invisible to the eyes. In all your actions, however, there must be cooperation between will and grace. So, if you will consciously choose unhealthy things every day, and say the prayer boldly, you will not obtain anything.

Keep moderation and common sense, for every exaggeration is a disturbance of the natural order that I have established. So sleep when it is time to sleep, and work when it is time to work. Do not put your health and lives at risk, so that your life may not be interrupted and shortened by accidents or illnesses that were not in God's plan, but are only the result of the non-observance of God's commandments and laws, which I have given to you for your protection. Respect your life and health because it was given to you by God. Man receives life only once. It is a one-time, unique gift that every man receives from the hands of his Creator once and can never repeat it. So neither you nor your loved ones will repeat any day and will not extend your life by one day, no matter how much you would want it. So let the days you receive and give to others be good, because time passes quickly; like water draining from an inclined pitcher, so human life trickles every day down to the bottom. I bless you in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

3) Killing of the soul

God the Father: The commandment: "You shall not kill" applies not only to the body but also to the soul. It applies to all physical and psychological violence that leaves effects on the body and the soul. Any abuse and infliction of pain is pure evil and cannot be justified in any way. However, there is painless killing, and even one that the victim does not feel and perceives as pleasant and desirable. It is the killing of the soul through the sin of scandal. The sin of one can be the cause of someone else's sin, and that is killing others in the soul. Killing a human body is a crime against life, and it leaves the human victim without the prior possibility of preparing himself for the moment of death, because such unnatural death is always a surprise and no one expects to die murdered. So if one does not prepare his soul for death every day, he will not be ready for it and may die unprepared in a state of grave sin and go to Hell after death.

The killing of the soul is sending a human soul to Hell during her lifetime. First, beware of ungodly people who set a bad example with their lives. Especially those who seduce the young through their talents, which they have received from God; they will be severely judged by Me because they have seduced My children to give them to Satan. The lack of awareness of sin does not reduce its effects in souls who die in the world deceived by evil idols, who seduce children for their own glory. All who imitate them and fill themselves with the sin that flows from their lives, increase their faults with every sin of their own, which grows out of the trunk of corruption by scandal.

Therefore, by doing evil on a small scale, man scandalizes his loved ones and has their bad choices on his conscience. This applies to bad husbands whose wives abandon them and fall into the sin of adultery, bad wives whose husbands seek refuge and consolation in addictions, bad parents who, through their bad lives, destroy the lives and the future of their children, and bad children who cause the downfall of their younger siblings, and their parents to lose faith. The responsibility also lies on bad employers who force employees to cheat, and bad rulers who destroy customs by unfair laws or force citizens to dishonesty. All those who do evil on a large scale are accountable for the destruction of souls on a large scale, and thus politicians, artists, scientists and others who desire to be known throughout the whole world. They will be accountable for the whole world.

There is also an authority that governs souls on Earth, and that is the spiritual authority. Priests, cardinals and bishops, as well as all consecrated persons, are the face of God on Earth, and their behavior in a particular way draws people to faith or conversely, leads them to the loss of faith. Therefore, let everyone who walks take heed lest he fall. The falls of the clergymen are especially painful for the whole Earth and bring with them the greatest corruption. Sinners take delight in justifying their wrongdoing with the example of bad clergymen and they feel justified. They are not justified, but woe to those through whom they have fallen and departed from the Church and the faith.

Man should repent for other people's sins as for his own sins. For it is easy to lead the soul to sin, and much harder to extract her from it. I sacrificed My own Son for this purpose, and yet I could not save all souls. What can you sacrifice for Me to save those you have scandalized and led to their downfall? So remember about penance for your sins during your lifetime, because after death it is much longer and much heavier. Amen.

Bless you, daughter, in the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit. Amen.

COMMANDMENT 6: YOU SHALL NOT COMMIT ADULTERY

1. Impurity breaks the bond with God and destroys the ability to love

8.07.2019

God the Father: The sixth commandment sounds: "You shall not commit adultery" and forbids man everything that is unclean, that destroys the innocence of the soul and the body of man. I created a man in My image and likeness, that is, I created him pure. Impurity is a diabolic trait and conforms man to an animal. Not so much dull-witted and instinctive as full of covetousness and lust, which leads to the loss of reason and will, as it is the case with people possessed by evil spirits. They become similar to animals, namely to demons.

Lust breaks the bond of man with God and leads to its complete destruction. A man overpowered by lust loses his ability to love anyone. Impurity destroys in man the ability to love and impairs his self-love, so that man becomes capable of loving only himself, and yet overpowered by the demon he cannot love, so he begins to hate. In this way, he gets into a circle of hatred, which like a funnel drags him only down, impairing his psyche and injuring the soul more and more unto destruction.

Man is capable of angelic purity only with the help of the grace of God, but thanks to it he can truly abide in purity. When man's relationship with God weakens, his first battlefield becomes the sphere of sensual purity, because it is the most delicate sphere and the most in need of God's power. Purity in no way opposes the ability and the vocation of man to reproduce himself. Man received all abilities to fulfill the plans of God. Any use of these abilities for purposes contrary to the plan of God leads to misfortunes and pain, before which I have wished to protect you by establishing the sixth commandment.

Every man has been called to a specific mission on Earth and endowed with the abilities to perform the Will of God. However, independent of whether in the plan of God they are to start a family or devote their lives to God, all are called and gifted to live in purity. For marriage is never a break from purity. On the contrary, the break from purity leads to a break of marriage bonds.

Purity is a natural state for man, in which he maintains a bond with his Creator, and this bond is for him a source of fulfillment and peace. The use of God's gifts, though they are innate to man, for things incompatible with the Will of God, is the breaking of this natural bond between man and God and entering into a bond with the evil spirits, who distort the image of human vocation and make man truly an instinctive slave of his own senses, but this happens only after sin has occurred. Hence the enslavement and difficulties in maintaining purity, persevering in fidelity or celibacy. It is always the result of sin and the breaking of the first relationship with God. This relationship is possible to rebuild, but then in great difficulty and by using many means, which are: fasting, prayer, active participation in the sacraments of the Church and observance of all My recommendations regarding the protection of purity, that is, avoiding all opportunities for sin. I bless you, My child, in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

2. Enslavement and spiritual disability as consequences of impurity

God the Father: Impurity brings with it spiritual havoc and introduces chaos proper to Hell into the life of man, because the consequences of this sin are very extensive, especially spiritually. Impurity is not love. It is its destruction at the very beginning. Relationships based on impurity lead to internal destruction, burnout and emptiness, from which later it is impossible to extract the strength to overcome any sort of difficulties. So people who are tied with each other in a sinful way turn out to be inhumanly indifferent to each other and hostile in view of the difficulties that they face. Sharing every moment with each other, they can become strangers from day to day and never mention each other again. They start new relationships, transferring their wounds and entanglements related to sin to subsequent persons.

Children born in sin without God's blessing are forever unhappy. They are unable to find peace. Burdened with the yoke of the fall of their own parents, they fall down in a similar way, because one inherits from his parents not only the appearance and the character traits, but also the spirituality and the connection belonging to souls with the world of Heaven or Hell.

From the first moment of the coming into being of the soul, she is loved by Me, but the rejection of My love by man through the rejection of My commandments cuts off My blessing and introduces unclean spirits, which are always spirits of destruction. These are not cupids with sweet faces. Impurity arising in the mind and relocated to the heart develops into deeds due to the spirits of destruction and death, who after seducing their victims leave them in a lamentable condition. And if they have the consent, that is, they are not expelled through the Sacrament of Confession, they remain closely connected with the soul whom they have deceived, and they entangle her so strongly so that she would no longer be able to extract herself from her pitiful position. Now, their effort will be to lead her to the very bottom, where there is only despair, and from there to precipitate her straight to Hell.

Every impurity kills love. Every impurity leads to the formation of wounds and sick interpersonal relationships, from which love cannot flow. I am Love. By breaking My commandments, you always submerge yourselves in the world of evil, in which love does not exist. Lust and the desire to possess another person are not love, which you find out at the first difficulties. Psycho-physical addiction is not love, nor is any kind of infatuation. They are all kinds of snares, which the evil spirits use to lure, deceive and destroy human souls.

Impurity that is not being fought develops into heavy addictions, perversions, and savagery, because Satan's will is to deprive mankind of its dignity and likeness of God. Sin always leads to the next sin, and every subsequent sin is uglier than the previous one and more strongly shackles the soul. That is why sins against the sixth commandment very quickly lead to enslavements, from which later it is difficult to break free for years. Every fall is accompanied by evil spirits, which later remain with man to torment him, because thanks to one fall they receive in some ways the right to circulate around this soul.

My children, how much suffering you endure for a moment of your delusive forgetfulness... How broad are the consequences and complications suffered through sin in your families... how many cries, complaints and suicides as a result of breaking this basic commandment, which is only a guarantor of your happiness on Earth. The human intimate sphere is so delicate and sensitive that it should be shared with only one person, whom one chooses for the entire life. Only the marriage that I will bless creates a family ready for the reception of children. Only in such conditions, spiritual wounds are not arising in your hearts, and the children that you will conceive will be free. You must be aware that trying yourselves in relationships with others impairs you very much internally. The more impurity in the life of man, the less he is capable of starting a family and accomplishing any life tasks.

Striving for purity should be as important to you as wearing clothing for protection against a swarm of insects. For evil spirits, through impurity, eat away everything that is good from the interior of man. They are like parasites, which once admitted to their victim, disfigure her and lead to her death. The same is done to you by those, whom you let seduce you and lead to impurity; those with whom you remain in unclean relationships, calling them love. Hell is full of lovers, My children. I bless you in the name of the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit. Amen.

3. Purity is a proof of love

God the Father: I created mankind to give Me glory. I created it out of love. The lie of today's world consists of convincing mankind that there is love besides God that is true, beautiful and eternal, and it is worth sacrificing one's life for it. So looking for the right partner to live this illusive love takes people the entire life, still not satisfying their desires which, devoted to sin, will never find satisfaction and peace. The soul ruled by evil spirits is filled with fear and the love that she expects to experience is a daze, which makes you see things differently than they are in reality. The daze blinds with sin. Man sees man as Satan wants, and as long as the temptation lasts, he sees him better, more beautiful and more perfect than he really is. This blindness covers obvious flaws, infirmities and sicknesses, and even ugliness. The love of the world is based on mutual egoistic exploitation, in which man is a divinity demanding reverence and adoration.

My children, the desire for love that I have implanted in the human soul cannot be quenched outside of Me. Only with Me and through Me you can attain real love and receive it in marriage. As true, beautiful and eternal, I am the source of true, beautiful and eternal love. Satan, the king of the kingdom of sin, possesses neither truth, nor beauty, nor stability. He is a cruel executioner who plays with your dreams for one purpose. He wants to make you unhappy forever in his prison, from which you will never come out again.

A world devoted to the authority of evil has developed all means of temptation and deception of mankind, so that purity would disappear from the face of the Earth, and yet My grace is above the world. Once you understand that impurity breaks the bond of the soul with God and by the same token leaves her in the hands of spirits of destruction, desire to keep purify with all your heart and My grace will be your strength.

The sin of impurity is in its nature so contrary to the perfect and pure nature of God, that it tears the soul away from God regardless of whether it is committed in thoughts, words or deeds. In its every form, it kills the sanctifying grace in the soul, and thus it is a mortal sin. That is why Satan so eagerly develops his snares in this sphere, because in no other he does take away souls from Me so easily. By developing the world of the senses, he develops physical weakness in man. For it takes strength and valor to combat these temptations; discipline and obedience, and not slackness and laziness. It is there that impurity enters, through idleness and an effeminate heart. Keeping faithfulness always requires valor. It is faithfulness towards the King, to whom it is worthwhile to show a fervent heart. Only an ardent and loving heart is capable of faithfulness. And you owe the King faithfulness until death, so give Him your bodies and will, so he can create an invincible army out of you.

What I desire from you is complete purity, which in the name of God rejects everything that leads to impurity. I cannot describe the delight with which I look at souls who, out of love for Me, remain pure and fight for it with all their strength to prove their faithfulness to Me. For purity is proof of love. I value it above all other virtues because it creates a strong bond between the soul and God, similar to human marriage ties. The sin of impurity breaks this bond completely, so I cannot rely on the one who easily breaks this bond so precious to Me.

The reward for purity is My faithfulness and My right hand, with which I fight on the side of the one who guards his heart for Me. I will jealously defend such a soul, because faithfulness captivates Me to such an extent, that I attach Myself to such a soul in a particular way and I have a lot of patience for her. I can say that I give My heart to such a soul and I cooperated with her in all her good works. For faithfulness, I pay with magnanimity, because for Me it is a proof of love. I can only base My action on and I can only trust those who are faithful to Me. I base My works and plans on them. The rest receive and lose My grace. I have mercy for them, but they are not suitable for any task.

Write, daughter. My true friends, leaders of My army, guard their gaze for Me. They do not give it to every creature, but look away from what might be a temptation and a snare. They do not give away their gaze to everyone, but they keep it in discipline and abstinence for higher purposes. My leaders are not looking around curiously and stupidly, losing sight of their goal, lest their enemy approaches them. My chosen ones possess the wisdom to choose what is good and despise evil. For the eyes are the gate to the fortress, in which lives the King of kings. The one that I place at the gate must be vigilant and cunning, so as not to let into the fortress the King's enemies, who will mislead the guard with an agreeable appearance and speech, in order to murder the King. This is My fate in the hearts that are not vigilant and valiant.

Satan's anger reverberates throughout the world through the media, which are permeated by a hostile tempting power. The one who feeds on them will not preserve purity, because the temptations in them sneak in as if through the back door. You will not notice them; you will be already defeated, filled with images that will tear away your hearts from Me. Beware of these hidden enemies. Beware also of those overt ones who mislead you, requiring reverence and admiration for themselves. Women who wear immodest outfits, and these are all those who, instead of hiding their body, emphasize it, enter on the warpath with Me. They will be punished for other people's sins still during their lifetime, and then after death. If they obtain husbands, they will not be faithful to them; and if they do not obtain them, this will be My punishment for seducing the husbands of others. For other people's sins are also adultery.

Marital chastity consists of subordinating married life to the laws of God, which command the spouses to conceive and raise the offspring that God will be willing to give them. The purity of the clergy assumes total abstinence in thoughts, words and deeds through faithfulness to the One to whom they gave their bodies. I guard the body of the priest as My own, and My jealous love towards priests desires above all their purity and it kindles a great wrath against those who do not guard it. The priests should avoid all occasions not only for sin, but even for the emergence of temptations. If they do so, they have a helper and a protector in Me. Then I Myself guard them and I fill them with My Divine strength. Celibacy is a great grace and freedom, so that a man of flesh and blood could become an angel. If the priest gives Me completely his masculinity, I give him wings to hover above what is human.

In the sixth commandment, I forbid you not only to commit adultery in deeds, but also in thoughts and words. It does not become to speak about unclean things to the lips receiving the Body and the Blood of God. It does not become to look in an unclean way with the eyes that God has formed to see Him. Guard your purity so that you will be able to see God after death, because every impurity impairs the soul and distances her from God. Later, only the living fire can cleanse you and enable you to see Me. Blessed are the pure in heart.

I bless you, child, in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

COMMANDMENT 7: YOU SHALL NOT STEAL

1. Work as a necessary penance after the rebellion of the first humans in Paradise

11.07.2019

God the Father: I want to remind the world about My seventh commandment, which sounds: “You shall not steal.” Theft is doing harm to a fellow man by taking his property from him. Man received the grace of work, thanks to which he can acquire resources that are necessary for his life: food, clothing and a roof over his head. Work is a form of penance due to man because of the original sin. If it is done honestly with the intention of praising God through it, it is accompanied by My blessing. Thus, work is good in its assumption, because it is offered to man by the Creator, even though it can be hard and thankless. These are the consequences of sin. However, work is worthy of being solicited and respected. Every decent job deserves compensation. It is the duty of man, which I have included in the seventh commandment, to respect the work of others and his own.

He who respects someone else’s work will relate with respect to its fruits, as well as to the property that was acquired thanks to the work. This property is the due of the one who earned it honestly. Thus, taking away someone’s property is taking away his remuneration due for work. It does not matter how theft occurs, whether it is secretly taking someone’s property, cheating, or appropriating to oneself someone else’s good. All these actions deserve condemnation as those that deprive a man of his remuneration due for work.

It is a sin to despise work and to reject it as a way of life. Idleness with a sense of superiority and a desire to get rich at someone else’s expense is a grave sin, if exploitation and unfair remuneration of employees are allowed here, as well as any manipulations aimed at the extortion of honestly earned money. Not taking up a job is also a sin, because it burdens those who must put their own money to support the idlers.

The thieves are those who prey on the work of others, and who themselves will not touch any work. The thieves are those who take away the property of others, borrow and do not pay the debts, as well as appropriate themselves other people’s found belongings.

Let them be sure that God's justice will reach their injustices. No thief will enter the Kingdom of Heaven until he will return everything that he has stolen and earned at the expense of others.

Let each of you take care of your own good and do not stretch out your hands greedily for more. God will take care of every man's needs if only he will ask Him for it. Theft is a last recourse that is rarely caused by the right needs. Thefts are rather the result of greed and jealousy, as well as idleness. Remember to be honest even in the smallest things. Beware of all deceit because small harms are also harms, just like a small ache also hurts. Be flawless. Find repugnant someone else's money. As much as you are receiving will be enough for everything. God sees and knows. Let your honesty be known, so that everyone who sees a Christian can be sure of his integrity. I bless you in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

2. Deception as a norm and basis of the functioning of the civilization of the XXI century

God the Father: Man received a conscience so it would prompt him to what is good and what is bad. If a man tries to live honestly, he will inevitably have a sensitive voice of conscience. The Holy Spirit prompts him on how to live so as not to lose respect for himself.

The sinner's conscience, however, differs from the conscience of a saint. Every small sin makes man less sensitive in the conscience, and sin added to sin makes in sort that man slowly gets used to the thought that his conscience is too sensitive and some concession should be made. And so, the unclean conscience distorts, complicates, and obscures the clear and obvious commandments of God so that it is no longer known anymore what should be called a sin, because all the pangs of conscience find a justification right away.

Listen to Me, My children. Dishonesty is a great detriment to the conscience. If you prefer to keep your actions hidden and do not want to broadcast them on the roofs, they are not perfect. You should look carefully at everything in your life that is shrouded in mystery, and think about why you prefer to keep your secrets. One day, everything will be known to everyone anyways, but the shame and regret brought about by the revelation of the truth is so painful that you would rather sink into the ground than bear the truth.

Theft is a despicable thing. It takes away from man people's respect and trust. Afterward, a good name cannot be returned, because theft is something that disparages human dignity. A thief will never be respected. He will always remain just a thief, even if he would achieve an awful lot; he will not gain respect and no one will hold him in esteem. On the contrary, people will avoid him like a leper, because trust is the basis of interpersonal relationships. The children of thieves suffer contempt and shame. They have a very difficult path with a tarnished name, because children are judged by their parents.

Finally, a thief is not only the one who secretly takes away someone else's property, but also the one who cheats with the intention of taking ownership of someone else's property. Anyone who is not honest commits fraud and is guilty in the light of the seventh commandment. There are currently recognized occupations, which assume cheating as a form of earning money and getting rich at the expense of others. Due to the social consent for this type of activity, people do not feel a pang of conscience because of their dishonesty and work detrimental to others. You are being told that everyone can cheat, and if someone is fooled it is through their own fault and stupidity, because he has eyes and can make a better choice or give up something that is exploitation.

My children, social acceptance of sin does not change the nature of sin. Sin is a curse. It brings the curse. It multiplies the curse. Social acceptance of sin is only a confirmation that society is corrupt and has lost the consciousness of evil. Even if the one being cheated is naive or stupid, it does not reduce the fault of the cheater but increases it. For what is the difficulty of cheating a child? His purity always implies the honesty of the one who speaks to him. Remember well, every cheating is a sin. Extortion of money is a sin. Counterfeiting the true value of items with the goal of extortion of an unfair sum is also a sin.

All of today's trade is based on fraud. The information that is being placed on products and the packaging itself are designed to mislead and lure the consumer. Although the information on the packaging may be true, the consumer is cheated by his first impression and the cursory reading of the information. This matter basically applies to the entire modern economy and all branches of industry. The service industry has also developed many types of fraud, but not as much as trade. Dishonesty has become the norm and honesty is an oddity that does not pay off.

So listen to Me, My children. You became accustomed to being cheated, so you yourselves feel justified in petty frauds. No. The more you are surrounded by falsehood and dishonesty, the more you should be honest with yourselves. Do not take anything that does not belong to you. Do not use someone else's property, saving your own. Do not touch other people's belongings without the knowledge of the owner. Do not think that public things are nobody's. Do not think that nobody's things are yours. Respect your property and do not look greedily at what does not belong to you. Beware of using the goods of your employers regardless of who they are and how rich they are. Theft is always theft and always brings more harm to the one stealing than to the one being robbed. Treat other people's belongings as your own³. It is not about whether you inflict great or little harm, but about whether you treat others with love.

You should respect borrowed items more than your own, regardless of whether you borrow them from relatives or companies. Behind every item stands a man who planned the use of this item and put his work into its creation. By despising someone else's work, you will not enrich yourselves on your own. I want you to understand that theft is not just burglaries and pickpockets. The compliance with this commandment requires from each person a detailed examination of conscience and great caution. This is a very clear commandment, but also very extensive. Today's banking system, services, trade, and even other industries not directly related to finances are based on unfair principles and prey on societies instead of building them. In this way, mankind submerges itself, because one exploits another, for which the latter does not remain indebted to him, and in his field, he reclaims the debt owed to him.

In this system, there is no room for love. Everyone deserves to cheat for being cheated by others. This leads to a complete collapse of values and faith in man. By the same token, the civilization must collapse. That is why I am asking you, contrary to what you consider to be right and just as retaliation against the injustice inflicted upon you by companies, countries, and individuals, to keep your personal integrity and not allow the destruction of your consciences. Be guided in everything by truth and love. I bless you, in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

COMMANDMENT 8: YOU SHALL NOT BEAR FALSE WITNESS AGAINST YOUR NEIGHBOR

1. Only cowards and lazy people lie

God the Father: I have loved the truth. I want you also to love the truth. The eighth commandment forbids you to lie. A lie is always evil because Satan is its father and you do not want to have him as a father. Thus, your behavior must contradict evil and be unambiguous. I have told you: let your “Yes” mean “Yes” and your “No” mean “No”. The truth also has a father. He, who tells the truth, has a Father behind him who is his defender. Always remain in the truth and do not be afraid. The truth is an eternal good. It always comes from God. So always tell the truth and do not be afraid to speak clearly and directly. All run-arounds and attempts to hide the truth lead to lies. If the revelation of the truth is not goodness, then silence remains for the Christian. Silence is also goodness, unless someone knowing the truth does not defend the innocent. Then hiding the truth would be evil.

My children, speaking the truth requires courage and valor. I educate you to be brave and upright people. Only cowards and lazy people lie, who do not have the courage and the strength to stand in the truth and to defend the truth. And if you will recognize a liar, prepare yourself for theft, because bold lies go hand in hand with theft. Renounce all falsehoods. Learn from Me. Be My children similar to Me like two drops of water. I never lie, although for your sake I do not always tell you everything, because you would not be able to bear so much. Lying is a deliberate concealment of truth and speaking contrary to what you actually think. Come tomorrow and I will finish My Message. I bless you, in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

2. Complete prohibition of backbiting, judging, gossiping and vain talk

God the Father: The eighth commandment specifies what should be said and what should not be said. You should not say things that can harm your neighbor in any way. This applies not only to false oaths, but also to all aspersions, slanders, lies, and spreading of rumors. Even judging someone who might be innocent is already a sin. For the Judge is one and until the judgment is supported by some evidence, the injustice remains.

It is easy for you to judge people around you; it is much harder to admit your own faults. The eighth commandment orders man to always speak the truth and to remain silent when speaking could harm his neighbor. There are situations in which showing someone's faults or bad deeds is necessary and needed, but if this is not to serve a specific and important matter, to make a life decision or help in upbringing, talking about the faults of others is only malice and arises from pride. Man by nature would like to be better than he is, and talking about the flaws of others gives him this substitute for feeling better. However, this temporary consolation at the expense of the neighbor is very harmful.

I told you the words, "Do not judge and you will not be judged". Remember these words and repeat them to yourselves inwardly every time, when comes the temptation of judging others. Only God can know what the truth is, because only I truly know all the circumstances that make up an event, and I can pass judgment upon it. You? Your premises are so poor that you should not open your lips, judging your neighbors. Can you know how you would behave alone in similar circumstances and conditions? The love of the neighbor commands to leave the matters of judgment to God. Exposing the sins of others prevents them from improving, because social rejection closes for them the doors to many opportunities, with which God would desire to change them.

Empty talk is food for breaking the eighth commandment. Try to remember that every word that comes out of your mouth will be judged, whether it has done any good. Idle talk itself is already not agreeable in the eyes of God. You mindlessly repeat heard rumors; make judgments about people, and often about clergymen. Don't you know that you should not speak evil particularly about them? In the meantime, it has become your favorite occupation; and when two pious persons meet, it is dreadful to think how much evil will come out of their mouths.

Children, observe My commandments, otherwise no one will convert while looking at you. Gossiping about the clergy is your greatest sin, because by doing so, you discourage others from faith. Do not exalt yourselves above the priests and do not condemn their faults. Your business is prayer and penance. Cunning tongues are the first to condemn others. This attitude deters people who are far from the Church from you and from conversion. One should only speak well about priests, and if you have nothing good to say, keep quiet. With what measure you measure, it will be measured to you. He, who truly fights for good, will do everything for the good of the Church. The slander of priests, and especially the bishops, is a blow to the heart of the Church. By speaking evil, you will not achieve good. You do not spread it and you do not increase its reach. The devil uses deceit, persuading you that participation in the sacraments and more frequent prayer entitles you to pass judgments on priests. Moreover, My grace shown to you gives you the right to judge people. Nothing could be more wrong. In this way, you only lose all the graces you have received. With your pride, you devour your own merits and turn the good offered to you into evil.

I will repeat to you once again: If you see evil and errors in others, beat your own chests apologizing to Me and asking for grace for those who err. If the one who errs does not realize it, he needs an admonishment. However, the admonishment is not a reproach or malicious remark, a demonstration of superiority and humiliation of one's neighbor, but a showing of truth that is full of love. Meanwhile, speaking evil about others does not bring any good and cannot help them in any way. On the contrary. By gossiping, you add your own sins to theirs. You remind Me of soldiers who stop during the fight to torment the struck enemy, inflicting subsequent blows upon him, instead of going back to the fight to win a victory over the entire enemy army. This is bestiality that no longer serves the victory; it delays it, and if more soldiers were to do so, it would make victory impossible. Such soldiers are not worthy to be called soldiers. They are executioners similar to demons and, through their own lusts, act to the detriment of their own army. They should be counted among traitors because their fight brings more harm than good.

So not only the lie itself is a sin, but any hasty opening of the mouth that brings harm to the honor and the dignity of another man. Try to look at others through a prism of love. Then your actions bring good, and words make sense. The eighth commandment is a mirror for the soul, for it shows how much love there is in man. I bless you in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

COMMANDMENT 9: YOU SHALL NOT COVET YOUR NEIGHBOR'S WIFE

Causes and consequences of breaking the ninth commandment

God the Father: The ninth commandment sounds: "You shall not covet your neighbor's wife." This is a commandment of great weight. It forbids entering someone else's marriage not only by deed, but also by mere thought. Everything is apparent in the eyes of God, and only a mere lustful thought or gaze is a slap in the face of God. I established marriage as a Holy Sacrament. It is holy because I concluded it with My supernatural power. The spouses belong to each other by virtue of this grace and by virtue of the same grace they belong to Me. I defend marriage with my own breast and the one, who steps into its sanctity with a mere lustful thought, strikes Me directly.

A woman becoming a wife ceases to belong to the world. Her appearance and restraint in behavior testify to her respect for her husband and to the Sacrament, which she has concluded. If a married woman tries to attract the looks of other men by her appearance and behavior, she is already committing a sin, being guilty of someone else's sin.

A woman's destiny is to have one husband and she should stop at that. If for the sake of her own vanity, she covets the recognition of other people's husbands, she commits a sin against the ninth commandment, which forbids to covet other people's husbands and wives. This is not only about carnal lust, but about any lust. Vanity is lust. Greed is also.

When choosing a husband, a woman must accept him with everything that he possesses, and with his entire characteristic background. Some of these things will meet her expectations, and some she must accept and stop at that. The lust for a better husband's family, the admiration for the resourcefulness and eloquence of other men, as well as their money and position, lead to marital betrayal. The wife must accept her husband with his family and wealth, his preferences and character traits, and then she will be a happy wife, not directing her desires outside of the marriage.

A man choosing a wife for himself must choose a woman with whom he desires to grow old, so he should love his wife. Only a woman who loves can fulfill the life of a man so that he will not direct his desires beyond the marriage, and her pregnancy, crises, and old age will not be for the man a detriment to the love and sweetness of domestic happiness. If the love with which a man enters into marriage is superficial and shallow, it rather deserves the name of lust, which will pass at the first difficulties. Then, the man who is immature to love will begin to direct his desires outside of the marriage, to escape from marital crosses and duties.

Marriage is a responsibility, so it should be concluded with great mindfulness, because it is a decision for the entire life. All nascent desires for someone else's wives, their abilities, beauty or friendship should be suppressed in the bud. The admiration for some physical or spiritual quality can turn into desire, and it is already sinful in itself, because it pertains to someone else's property.

So the man should stop at what he has and appreciate the gifts of the Creator; and if the choices he made are a consequence of sins and are rather a cross, the only hope to improve this state of affairs is to humbly accept the cross and fall in love with it until it becomes sweet. For if the unhappy ones in a marriage were to make so much toil and effort in the goal of saving and improving their marriage as they direct at feeling sorry for themselves and telling others about their cross, they would heal their marriages and could live for many years in happiness.

Therefore, coveting other people's husbands and wives leads to the breakup of the marriage, spiritual destruction of children, quarrels and further sins. The secret of the joy of marital life is in showing satisfaction with what one has and the appreciation of God's gifts. Temptations should be suppressed in the bud and one should avoid the opportunity for sin through excessive conviviality and a penchant for entertainment.

The rules that I have set out for you in the ninth commandment should be an iron rule, from which no concessions are ever made. This applies to spouses as well as to those who remain unmarried. Both are burying their happiness by breaking this commandment. Those who touch the sanctity of marriage bring a curse upon themselves; firstly by coveting themselves, and secondly by violating My holiness. I bless you, My child, in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

COMMANDMENT 10: YOU SHALL NOT COVET YOUR NEIGHBOR'S GOODS

Destruction of the perfect plan of God in one's own life

God the Father: The tenth commandment concerns the lust for any property of one's neighbor, and thus jealousy and envy, which have their source in greed. No one should be jealous of anything. Every man on Earth receives the gifts he needs from the Creator. These gifts are not divided equally, but are given out of consideration for the mission that the soul receives to perform on Earth. The plan of God assumes different paths, so there are different gifts and graces that people receive. One should also remember that not everything that man desires serves his soul.

Humility is the basis for observing this commandment. A humble soul rejoices in what she has received from God and is grateful to Him, even though there are those who have received more. Man on Earth does not possess the fulness of knowledge and does not understand the action of God. Thus, he should always accept the Will of God and the place that has been intended for him. The soul gets to know the perfect justice of God only after death, where she sees accurately her life and the graces that were given to her. The life of man is not only the earthly life, but also the eternal life; and from this perspective, one can only then perceive the justice of God.

For that reason, the human soul is harmed by too much curiosity, which leads to too much focus on the lives of others. Scrutinizing the lives of others leads further to jealousy and coveting other people's things. Coveting other people's things, looking at them in this spirit and thinking about them leads to the desire to possess them at any cost, and thus to spend money imprudently beyond one's means or directly to theft. In the best case, these lusts end with the eternal frustration of a man, who considers his lack of possession of certain things or characteristics to be his misfortune, for which he blames the members of his family, the society, the nation, himself, but most often Me, as an unjust God.

Coveting someone else's property leads to such intricacies, regardless of whether they are objects, wealth, physical or mental characteristics, talents, possibilities, and so on. As many things in the world, so many lusts accompany them. One can also covet in the world of the spirit God's graces to the chosen ones, supernatural experiences, the protection of God's Providence, and supernatural dreams or abilities that God gives out according to His preference for the greater glory of God. Such covetousness is a sin in which one accuses the Holy Spirit of injustice and undermines His Will.

That is why one should not scrutinize too much someone else's life, someone else's family, talents and wealth. All this leads to comparing oneself in a limited and unfair manner, and desires being born from this comparison are difficult to combat. You should keep your eyes on a tether and not look at what is not beneficial to the soul, and may be a threat to her peace. It is bad to awaken one's own desires by reading romances, watching movies, or someone else's stories that arouse the lust to have a different life, a different country, a different husband or wife, different children, a different profession, a different life, and in the end a different god, because lust is a prayer to a different deity, who comes called by lust and tempts the one, who has called him through lust. In this way, he brings upon himself the spirits of jealousy, impurity, theft, grief, and hatred.

Depending on what man covets, the evil spirits corresponding to this lust are charging on him to deepen this lust and turn it into an obsession, and in that way, they incapacitate their victim. So instead of striving to give glory to God with his life where God put him, man begins to obsessively desire to be someone else, somewhere else. He is capable of giving up his family, traditions, Church and God, looking for the fulfillment of his lusts in a better country, with a better family. All this leads to great misfortunes. The imaginary image of man and the world that Satan created in the media is not real, so the one who follows it will not find happiness and peace. On the contrary, he will experience deep disappointment, convincing himself that he has been deceived. The new life that he wanted to create is not his life that God has planned for him; therefore he will never achieve fulfillment in it.

Children, you receive graces to live in the country that God to gives you, with the family in which you are born, and with the abilities you have received, not to mention appearance or sex. By coveting what others possess, you destroy your own life and the perfect plan of God towards yourselves. Only by following the path on which God has put you, you achieve happiness, peace, and fulfillment. So I forbid you to covet other people's belongings, because even if they were good for someone else, they will not be for you. I forbid you to look with covetousness at what you do not possess, to protect you from Satan and the destruction of My Will in your life. Remember, what you have is good. Good for you are the families that you have, the houses you live in, the cars you drive, your social status, appearance, characteristics and talents, because you have received it all from God. Do not desire anyone else's good so it would not turn into evil for you. I bless you in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

ADORATION AND RECEPTION OF THE LAW OF GOD

God the Father: Listen, my work is almost finished. When you will receive the tablets, let the priest ceremoniously bless them, so that My Law is observed in the home, in which they will be hanged. Also, ask the priest to perform an exorcism and thus impart to them the power of protection in your homes. (...)⁴

Listen now. When the tablets are ready, I desire them to be worshiped by the people who desire to receive My Law and exalt it in their homes. The priest should show them to the people and exalt them, and then let everyone kneel and bow down to Me, as a sign that they recognize the superiority of My Law over their own reason, and thus the superiority of My Will over their own will. Then, the priest will pronounce the words of the oath, which you will repeat.

⁴ The entire dialogue will be available in in volume 31 of the Messages for the End Times that have just arrived.

ADORATION AND RECEPTION OF THE LAW OF GOD

The priest wearing a white cape performs the rite of consecration of the tablets of the 10 commandments of God:

Qmnípotens et miséricors Deus, qui sacerdotibus tuis tantam præ céteris grátiam contulisti, ut quidquid in tuo nómine digne ab eis ágitur, a te fieri credátur: quæsumus imménsam cleméntiam tuam; bene ✠ dic has tabulas Decalogi, quas ego, humilis servus tuus, benedico, ut doums has tabulas colens legem tuam servet et gratiam tuam vimque sumat. Per Dóminum nóstrum Jesum Christum Fílium tuum: Qui tecum vivit et regnat in unitáte Spíritus Sancti Deus per ómnia sæculora sæculórum.

R: Amen.

The priest proceeds to exorcise the tablets.

In nomine Patris et Filii ✠ et Spiritus Sancti. Amen.

Ps. LXVII

Esurgat Deus * et dissipentur inimici ejus:
et fugiant qui oderunt eum * a facie ejus.
Sicut deficit fumus, * deficiant:
sicut fluit cera a facie ignis, * sic pereant peccatores a facie Dei.

Ps. XXXIV

Iudica, Domine, nocentes me: * expugna impugnantes me.
Confundantur et reveantur * quærentes animam meam.
Avertantur retrorsum et confundantur * cogitantes mihi mala.
Fiat tamquam pulvis ante faciem venti: * et angelus Domini coarctans eos.
Fiat viæ illorum tenebrae, et lubricum: * et angelus Domini persequens eos.
Quoniam gratis absconderunt mihi interitum laquei sui: * supervacue exprobraverunt animam meam.
Veniat illi laqueus quem ignorat; et captio quam anscondit, * apprehendat eum: et in laqueum cadat in ipsum.
Anima autem meam exsultabit in Domino: * et delectabitur super salutari suo.

Omnípotens et mitíssime Deus, qui ómnium mundi rerum diversitátes solo Verbo creásti et ad hóminum reformatiόνem illud idem Verbum, per quod facta sunt ómnia, incarnári volunísti: qui magnus es et imménsus, terríbilis atque laudábilis, ac fáciens mirabília.

Súscipe, sancte Pater, a me indígno fámulo tuo meum cultum servitutis et dfidei, quem, quæ in honórem nóminis tui sancti, et in título omnipoténtiæ tuæ majestátis, humíliter tibi óffero.

Exorcízo vos, tabulæ Decalogi per Deum ✠ Patrem omnipoténtem, qui fecit cælum et terram, mare et ómnia, quæ in eis sunt. Omnis virtus adversárii, omnis exércitus diáboli, et omnis incúrsus, omne phantásma sátanæ, eradicáre et effugáre, ab his tabulis Decalogi: ut fiant ómnibus qui eis usúri sunt, salus mentis et córporis: in nómine Pa ✠ tris omnipotentis et Jesu ✠ Christi Fílii ejus Dómini nostri et Spíritus ✠ Sancti Parácliti, et in caritate ejúsdem Dómini nostri et Spíritus ✠ Sancti Parácliti, et in caritate ejúsdem Dómini nostri Jesu Christi: Qui ventúrus est judicáre vivos et mórtuos, et sæculum per ignem.

R. Amen.

R. Christe, eléison.

V. Kýrie, eléison.

R. Kýrie, eléison.

Sacerdos Orationem Dominicam secreta usque ad versus: „debitoribus nostris” dicit.

Pater noster, qui est in cælis, sanctificétur nomen tuum. Advéniat Regnum tuum. Fiat volúntas tua, sicut in cælo et in terra. Panem nostrum quotidíanum da nobis hódie. Et dimítte nobis débíta nostra, sicut et nos dimíttimus debitóribus nostris.

V. Et ne nos indúcas in tentatiónem.

R. Sed líbera nos a malo.

V. Salvos fac servos tuos.

R. Deus meus, sperántes in te.

V. Esto nobis, Dómine, turris fortitúdinis.

R. A fácie inimíci.

V. Dóminus virtútem pópulo suo dabit.

R. Dóminus benedícet pópulum suum in pace.

V. Mitte nobis, Dómine, auxílium de sancto.

R. Et de Sion tuére nos.

V. Dómine, exáudi oratiónem meam.

R. Et clamor meus ad te véniat.

V. Dóminus vobiscum.

R. Et cum spiritu tuo.

Et aspergatur aqua benedicta

Et benedictio Dei omnipotentis, Patris et Filii et Spiritus Sancti, descendat super has tabulas Decalogi, et maneat semper.

R. Amen.

Afterward, the priest, holding both tablets of the 10 commandments of God, ascends the steps of the Altar. THE People stand. The priest, facing the people, rises the tablets and says:

Behold the Law of God, the Wisdom of God, which infinitely surpasses human reason.

The people kneel and bow with the face to the ground. The priest lifts the tablets up for a second time and says:

Behold the Law of God, the Will of God, revealed to us for our Salvation.

The people AGAIN BOW WITH THE FACE TO THE GROUND. THE PRIEST LIFTS THE TABLETS UP FOR A THIRD TIME AND Says:

Behold the Law of God, the commandments, which we have to observe with love.

The people bow with the face towards the ground for a third time. The priest lowers the tablets and asks the people while holding them in his hands:

V. Do you want this Law of God, whose commandments are written on tablets, to be written in your heart?

R. I want.

V. Do you commit to exalt these tablets in your home by hanging them on the wall?

R. Yes.

V. Do you commit to getting to know God's current teaching of these commandments and observe them in your home?

R. Yes.

Now the people repeat the words after the priest:

V: God the Father, * who created me * and gave me Your Law, * so through a safe path * I may attain eternally viewing Your glory, * accept today my will * to surrender without reservation * to Your Law * and to obey all Your commandments * by me. * I commit * to read Your Law every day * and measure it up to my behavior. * I want to observe Your Law * with all my strength * and with all my heart, * with my mind, heart, and will. * I will make every effort, * to ensure that this holy Law * is observed in my family, * in my home, * and wherever I will appear * and where extends my authority. * Bless me, * so I would keep my promise * and fulfill with courage * Your commandments * until the end of my days. * Amen.

Then, the priest blesses the kneeling people in the name of God. Holding the tablets of the 10 commandments of God in his hands, he says:

V. In the name of God One in the Trinity: the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit: Let the power of God descend upon you, so you may boldly observe the Law of God.

R. Amen.

V. Let your hearts be pure and righteous, so you may be agreeable in the eyes of God and find His grace.

R. Amen.

V. Let God give you strength, so you would jealously fight for the obedience to His law around you.

R. Amen.

V. Let God ignite in you a passionate love for His Law.

R. Amen.

The priest holding up the tablets of the 10 commandments of God makes three times the sign of the holy Cross above the people.

V. On this path of truth and fight for the Law of God, may God ✠ the Father, the Son ✠ of God and the Holy ✠ Spirit bless you.

R. Amen.

The people rise. The priest personally hands over the tablets of the Law of God to the participants of the ritual. The head of the family or another present member of the family receives the tablets in the name of the entire family.

V. I entrust to you the Law of the Highest God. Guard it with all your strength in your heart and in your family.

R. Amen.
